Background

COXACO International Ltd is a UK private limited Company committed to serve as business facilitator to individuals, governments and non-governmental institutions. Based in London, we operate globally, with particular attention to trade relationships between Asia and Europe.

We built our company around a very simple idea: to empower people and communities through fair and equitable businesses that will boost their income generation capacity. This is why we work with companies, NGOs and individuals in such an effective and productive way. We never forget that people are the asset and that asking the right question is far more important than having the right answer.

We aim at forging long-lasting commercial relationships with our precious Partners and we improve ourselves by constantly learning from people's experience.
